CHECK CENTRAL POWERS' DRIVE THROUGH RUMANIA

TO ENFORCE ARBITRATION OF CAR STRIKE

STATE BOARD TAKES ACTION

New York, Sept. 21.—Arbitration of the city's transit strike, now in its third week, will be enforced by the state board of arbitration and mediation, it was announced here today by M. K. Regan, a member of the board. Hearings will be held beginning Monday and both sides will be directed to present testimony.

Asserting that the strike is "the most menacing labor situation that has ever threatened the peace and prosperity" of the city's population, Mr. Regan declared that if a general sympathy strike was called the safety and livelihood of "six or seven millions of people in this corner of the state" would be endangered.

"It is time that expression 'the public be damned,' be changed to the new slogan 'the public be protected,'" he added.

"I have already taken steps to bring about the compulsory submission of the points in dispute. From my investigations, so far I have decided that a settlement through mutual concessions by the companies and men is possible. I will urge that the companies take back their striking employees and settle the great point in controversy by reducing the time of operation of the so-called master and servants contract from two years to one year."

MOB HANGS AN ALLEGED MURDERER

Olathe, Kas., Sept. 21.—Bert Dudley, charged with the murder of Henry Muller, an aged German and his wife, was taken from the Johnson county jail here today by a masked mob and hanged to a telephone pole.

The mob came to Olathe in motor cars, supposedly from near Stilwell, where Muller had lived. Sheriff Lon Carroll, refused to give up Dudley and the mob overpowered him. They then battered down three jail doors. Several shots were fired but none was injured.

REVOLUTION IN CRETE

Paris, Sept. 21.—A revolution in the Greek Island of Crete is reported in a Havas despatch from Athens. The revolutionists are said to have proclaimed a provisional government.

Several revolutionary outbreaks in Greece have been reported since the entrance of Rumania into the war and the occupation by the Bulgarians of the Eastern portion of Greek Macedonia, which resulted in an agitation in favor of participation by Greece in the war. Last month revolutionists obtained control of parts of Greek Macedonia near Saloniki and proclaimed a provisional. The movement was said to be extending, but further news was withheld by the censor.

The Island of Crete, 150 miles long, with a population of something more than 300,000 is in the Eastern Mediterranean 60 miles from the Southern extremity of Greece. It is the former home of the Ex-Premier, Venizelos. Under the treaty of peace between Greece and Turkey in 1913, the island was annexed by Greece.

BELIEVE CHURCH FIRE RESULT OF GRUDGE

Cleveland, O., Sept. 21.—Officials are conducting investigations to determine whether the fire that destroyed the $50,000 Hough Avenue Congregational church yesterday was of incendiary origin. It is suspected that the fire was set by persons with a grudge against the church and its pastor, Rev. Dr. E. H. Tippet. The pastor was the president of the committee which represented the church in the recent vice investigation and received threatening letters.

CHARGED WITH POISONING 5 INMATES

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 21.—Evidence to support charges that Mrs. Amy E. Archer-Gilligan, proprietor at Windsor of an old peoples' home, was responsible for the deaths of five inmates of the home, was laid before the grand jury today. The death for which Mrs. Gilligan was arrested was that of Frank M. R. Andrews, an inmate, who died in 1914. As a result of an investigation the body was exhumed and it is alleged the autopsy showed the presence in the body of a powerful poison. Bodies of four other inmates, which were later examined, disclosed, it is charged, the presence of a like poison.

SUBMARINE DISCUSSION TO BE RENEWED IN REICHSTAG

Berlin, Wednesday, Sept. 20.—(Via London, Sept. 21.)—Renewed and full discussion in the Reichstag of the submarine issue and the controversy which led to the retirement of Admiral Von Tirpitz as minister of the navy appears to be inevitable in consequence of the publication of the letters exchanged between Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and the admiralty.

From these letters the public learned that in a private conversation Professor Valentini asserted Admiral Von Tirpitz had misled the Reichstag in regard to the number of available submarines and the possibility of a submarine campaign. The admiral demanded that the Chancellor discipline Prof. Valentini but the Chancellor, while freeing the admiral from the charges, took the position that the professor was not subject to his disciplinary powers.

These letters, however, touched only the fringes of accusations and allegations which for months have been circulating from month to month in connection with this controversy. There is contributed to Prof. Valentini not only the statement that Admiral Tirpitz furnished incorrect figures regarding the number of available submarines which charge the Chancellor declares unfounded, but also the declaration that the admiral deliberately misled the Reichstag and the Chancellor regarding the previous success of the submarine campaign and the amount of tonnage destroyed and that the foreign office obtained the correct figures only from papers stolen from the admiralty. This account of Prof. Valentini's conversation not only reported Admiral Von Tirpitz, but was submitted in the form of an affidavit to the Bavarian war ministry and formed one of the subjects of discussion at an audience granted last month by the King of Bavaria to a delegation which demanded a change in the imperial policy and the sharpest possible warfare against Great Britain.

In a communication printed in the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung this afternoon, Prof. Valentini denies flatly any mention of the theft of papers from the admiralty or that, as charged in the affidavit he cited as authority for this statement the Chancellor, with whom at that time he was not acquainted. There has arisen a sharp issue of veracity between Prof. Valentini and the author of the affidavit Prof. Grossmann, editor of the South German monthly, a prominent political periodical.

HUGHES ON TOUR THROUGH INDIANA

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 21.—Charles E. Hughes, addressing his second audience of the day in the open air here today, outlined the policies for which he stands and declared that he wanted to see in the United States a great driving force of patriotic sentiment, which would furnish the motive power for progress.

"I want American rights protected throughout the world," Mr. Hughes said. "I desire to see a great driving force of patriotic sentiment which will give us the motive power of progress. We cannot have progress unless we have that loyalty and love for our country which will enable us to get up steam to supply energy."

"And therefore that we may have that I say that American rights must be protected throughout the world with respect to American lives, property and commerce, with respect to all nations of the world."

The nominee reiterated his declaration that the "pathway of surrender to force leads only to civil war in the end," declared that he stood firmly for arbitration of industrial disputes and added that as the friend of labor he would not take the first step "along that pathway."

SUPPORTS WILSON

New York, Sept. 21.—Victor Murdock, editor of the Wichita (Kas.) Eagle, and a pioneer of the Progressive movement in the west, has declared unqualifiedly in favor of President Wilson's course in averting a nation-wide railroad strike. Referring to Candidate Hughes opposition to the eight-hour bill and his insistence that arbitration should have been compelled, Mr. Murdock's newspaper says in part:

"But Mr. Hughes, like the Republican newspapers, failed to point out how this could have been done. The railroad men took the position that the eight-hour day was not arbitratable. They refused flatly to arbitrate. Under the circumstances, then, unless the eight hour day was granted, a strike would have been inevitable. Would Mr. Hughes have preferred a strike, with its inevitable burnings and disorders, its bloodshed and prostration of industries, its stirring of class hatreds and suffering of millions of people, to the settlement that Mr. Wilson effected for the strike of 1894 gives a faint idea of what might have been expected in 1916 if the president, following Mr. Cleveland's precedent, had attempted to settle it by force."

BRYAN ON TOUR

Rock Springs, Wyo., Sept. 21.—William J. Bryan, started today on his second day's tour of Wyoming in support of President Wilson and the Democratic ticket with the program calling for a number of speeches. Mr. Bryan, speaking here last night appealed for the re-election of President Wilson on the ground that President Wilson had kept the United States out of war with Europe and Mexico.

Mr. Bryan declared the Republican party had been "unscrupulous in its methods concerning votes for women in suffrage states." He warned the Democratic women to beware of "Republican trickery."

HUGE BATTLE RAGES IN THE BALKANS

CANADIAN LOSSES HEAVY

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 21.—In the "tank" fight of Monday and Tuesday on the Somme front, Canadian casualties were 400 killed, 1,000 wounded, and 300 missing. This brings the total Canadian casualties to about 40,000.

London, Sept. 21.—Field Marshal Von Mackensen's advance through the Rumanian province of Dobrudja, where his combined German, Bulgarian and Turkish forces have been striking for the railroad from Constanza to interior Rumania, has been checked for the time at least, according to accounts from both sides of the struggle.

Bucharest yesterday announced a check for Von Mackensen's armies on the line of defense taken by the Rumanians and Russians, who have been heavily reinforced. Today a statement by the Sofia war office under yesterday's date concedes the stubbornness of the resistance and reports the entente armies still holding their strongly fortified positions.

Reports regarding the fighting in the Florina district in Northwestern Macedonia are conflicting. Accounts from entente sources have asserted the Bulgarians were falling back on Serbian territory and preparing for the defense of Monastir. Sofia, however, announces a turn in the fighting favorable to the Bulgarian forces, declaring that counter attacks resulted in the repulse of the Serbian and allied troops with heavy losses.

Further east in the mountainous country along the Serbian border the engagement is heavy all along the line. The struggle in the Kaimakalan district being particularly stubborn. On the far western end of the line the allies are making progress but apparently are attempting no serious forward thrust in either the Vardar or Strumma regions.

The defeat of the Germans in their desperate counter attacks along the Somme front, reported last night by Paris, has been followed by comparatively quiet in this region judging from today's official report which says the Germans did not renew their attacks during the night. The bad weather reported during the last few days is continuing and apparently the Anglo-French forces are awaiting its cessation before renewing their efforts to advance.

After a lapse of some days, activity has been resumed by the French in the Verdun region, attacks on the east bank of the Meuse gaining them two trenches South of the Thiaumont Work and some ground east of Fort Vaux and in the Chapiteau Wood.

British Subjected To German Attacks The British as well as the French have been subjected to heavy attacks by the Germans on the Somme front. Continuous assaults were made last night on positions held by the New Zealanders south of the Ancre, but according to the British war office every attack was beaten off, the Germans losing heavily in casualties and prisoners and the British managing to effect some gain of ground despite the incessant German onslaught.

On the Eastern front, Petrograd announces an offensive movement by the Germans along the Stokhod in Volhynia, south-east of Kovel, but declares all attacks on the Russian lines were repulsed and several hundred Germans were captured during the fighting near Korytno and Svinitsky. In the Carpathians the Russians report an advance near Panther Mountain, where a position on a height was captured. No further progress for the Rumanians in their invasion of Southern Transylvania is reported, but Bucharest announces that the Rumanian troops which recently were forced back to the border losing Petrosini and the Saurduk Pass in the Transylvania Alps have halted their retirement south of Petrosini and are fortifying their new position.

In further reports on the Dobrudja battle, Bucharest declares the Russians and Rumanians not only beat off all attacks, but in several cases turned on the Teutonic allies and delivered counter attacks.

In the Balkan situation Greece regains an uncertain quantity. A new factor in the internal situation appears today in the report that a revolution has broke out in the Greek Island of Crete, the home of former Premier Venizelos, friend of the entente, where a provisional government is said to have been set up.

VILLA MADE SPEECH AT THE PALACE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—An official account of Villa's raid on Chihuahua City last Saturday received at the war department today from Brigadier General Bell at El Paso, says the bandit chief captured some of Carranza's artillery and sixteen automobile loads of arms and ammunition.

liberated 200 prisoners from the penitentiary and made off after being joined by from 1,000 to 1,500 soldiers of the Carranza garrison.

According to General Bell's information Villa himself went to the governor's palace and made a speech from the balcony after his forces had captured the palace, the penitentiary and federal buildings.

The report reveals the fact that on Sept. 14, Villa sent a letter to General Trevino, commander at Chihuahua saying he would be in the city at 3 p. m. Saturday to "shake hands."

Washington, Sept. 21.—American Red Cross officials today gave serious consideration to the state department dispatch stating that nearly a million Chinese are homeless and thousands destitute as a result of the flooding of seven thousand square miles by overflow of the Hwai river in Anhui province, China, two months ago. The American consul at Nanking reported that autumn crops were destroyed and calls for relief were pouring in from many districts.

The Red Cross is said to be considering issuing an appeal for funds with which to send supplies to the flood sufferers. The flooded area is about the same as that inundated in 1909, with a loss of nearly 1,000,000 lives. A projected $30,000,000 Chinese government loan for reclamation work was made impossible by the European war.

William S. Hart in "The Captive God" Columbia Tonight

William S. Hart will be seen at the Columbia theatre tonight in the long-awaited Triangle "Aztec story," "The Captive God." This play is from the pen of Monte M. Katterjohn and offers Hart in a role that is totally unlike anything he ever has attempted since his desertion of the footlights for the film studio. The part is that of a stalwart Spaniard, who, shipwrecked in the early part of the sixteenth century, is adopted by the people of Tehuan, in ancient Mexico, and made their leader because of his superior wisdom.

Never since he first entered the motion picture field has Thomas H. Ince bent his efforts toward the production of a drama like "The Captive God." He has preferred to let pass untouched that period of the world's history which contains some of the most interesting and unusual romances ever written. But when Katterjohn wrote "The Captive God," Ince saw in it the possibilities of a remarkable motion picture play. With his customary care, Ince has incorporated a great amount of detail into this subject, and the result is a magnificent spectacle-romance.

Marie Doro in "Common Ground," Paramount, At Lyric Tomorrow

Marie Doro, one of the most celebrated dramatic artists on stage or screen, and formerly a Frohman star, will be seen at the Lyric tomorrow in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Common Ground," a thrilling drama of social conditions written especially for the Paramount Program by Marian Fairfax, and produced under the personal direction of William C. De Mille.

"Common Ground" shows the mental and spiritual awakening through love of a child of the slums, employed in an artificial flower factory. How she meets, falls in love with, and eventually saves, from ruin, at the hands of political grafters, a young judge, is the basis of this most unusual play. The methods of the army of parasites connected with the city institution, and their dealings with the underworld, are vividly exposed.

How the grafters, to further their own ends, manufacture false conditions to harm their enemies, is brought out through a series of most unusual scenes.

A Burton Holmes Travelogue is on the program tomorrow also.

At The Exhibit

"The Looters" is the title of chapter five of "The Grip of Evil" series being shown at the Exhibit every Thursday. Jackie Saunders and Roland Bolton are the stars in this famous series, the stories of which are written by men in the limelight, such as governors, mayors, etc., men who are in a position to know and who are studying that vital question, "Is Humanity in the Grip of Evil?" Each chapter is a complete drama and tells a story of how humanity is in the Grip of Evil. Don't miss today's thrilling chapter, and if you have not started to see the play, today is the time to start.

Two record-breaking comedies are also on the program. One is Heinie and Louis in a rip-roaring, riotous comedy farce. This pair is always producing the laughs. Lonesome Luke features the other side-splitting comedy number filled with laughter from beginning to end. Don't overlook tomorrow's feature attraction, "Forbidden Fruit," five reels, showing the consequences of sin in its many forms. Paul Shay and Everett Dutterfield are the stars.

A The Aragon

"The Latest Style in Vampires" is a two-reel Victor comedy drama, featuring Harry C. Myers, Rosemary Theby and Sidney Bracey. The former poses as a porch climber who breaks into the home of his former sweetheart, now married, or at least so the tramp alleges. His story afterward turns out to be a fake.

"Mutiny" is an Imp drama featuring Albert MacQuarrie, Jack Holt and Lucile Young. The story of a stowaway, who is a girl, and who prevents mutiny aboard a sailing vessel. A very entertaining story. "Apirated Weekly No. 30" contains up to the minute current events. See the $5,000,000 hurricane's wreckage; 7,000 Boy Scouts reviewed; the "boys" on the border; training citizen soldiers; and honoring U-liner's captain.

At The Strand

"Temptation and the Man" is a five-reel Red Feather feature drama with Robert Henley in the leading roles. It is the story of a reformed convict, a wealthy girl who organizes and finances a mission, and a gambler and his paramour. A weak husband also complicates matters. All the complications and qualities of the picture are new and different from others you have seen.

Mrs. Nannie Wright's Home Damaged By Fire

Ironton, Sept. 21.—The city was visited Wednesday with what was for a time thought to be a disastrous fire in the residential section of the city. The alarm at noon from Box 62 called the department to Mrs. Nannie Wright's fine residence, corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets, which was burning furiously in the attic. The general alarm soon sounded, bringing the whole fire department to the scene and hundreds of people to see the fire.

"At the time Mrs. Wright was sick in bed, and Mr. Wright had come down in the city and had secured a ticket for his trip to Cuba and was getting ready to go. The other members of the household were at dinner."

"The fire was really discovered by W. H. Rist, a neighbor, on Seventh street, and he called to John Mohr to turn in the alarm."

"The firemen found a very stubborn fire to fight when they arrived. It was an inside fire. How the fire originated is not known, but it is thought that it was caused by defective electric wiring."

Frank Tilton With Buffalo Bill Show

Frank Tilton, a well-known former Portsmouth young man, is with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show and was recognized by many of his friends during the parade today.

Tilton is a cannonier in the light artillery detachment with the show. He and his comrades are U. S. regulars fresh from the Mexican border on furloughs and under Uncle Sam's pay. As soon as their furloughs expire in October they will be found back with their commands, while a new contingent of furloughed soldiers will be drawn upon to take their places with the show, this through a special arrangement with the war department, which heartily approves of the preparedness feature of the Wild West Show. Tilton is serving his second enlistment in the U. S. army. The first time he was with a cavalry regiment out West.

Joseph Sally Dismissed

Joseph Sally, aged East End citizen, was dismissed in police court Thursday morning of the charge of assaulting his son, Richard Sally.

It developed that Mr. Sally had some provocation. His son and wife had been living at his home. The elder Sally returned from milking cows, and finding the young man leisurely outstretched on the porch, suggested that he might at least help to carry water. This angered the son and he pushed the father from the porch. The father seized a latchet and struck him over the head with it, inflicting a wound that caused the son to be laid up for several days.

The young man was inclined to get gay in court and the mayor fined him $10 for disorderly conduct, later suspending half of the amount, pending good behavior.

J. W. Frey, the West Virginia coal miner, who claimed a railroad man robbed him of $165, was fined $5 for drunkenness. His story was discredited by the police.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction

ANOTHER TIMELY WARNING

A rather stubborn fire raged at and rubbed elbows with the business heart of the city, Tuesday evening. Fortunately there was complete calmness in the atmosphere and danger of the spread of the flames was reduced thereby to a minimum. But suppose there had been a stiff breeze, what then?

State fire marshals visit Portsmouth at frequent intervals, go away and leave orders for the tearing down of shacks that they condemn as menaces to the public health, but not a word as to the peril to lives, to say nothing of loss of millions in property, through the standing invitation to a general conflagration. There are numerous wooden buildings, of deficient arrangements, in the trade centers that would burn like shavings if they once caught fire and to prevent the spread of flames from them would demand the quickest and most efficient service. There are laws on the statute books of Ohio that forbid one property owner to peril the property of a neighbor by inadequate structures. It is high time, in fact it has been high time, through many coming and going administrations, that the practical enforcement of the laws should be looked after. Portsmouth has been growing, she is growing and is going to keep on growing indefinitely—let that fact sink into the official mind. There should be ordinance that will make the laws operative and there should be neither fear nor partiality in making them firmly and unwaveringly effective. A calamity, in the form of a fire, could altogether too easily wipe out much of the prosperity which the city has enjoyed of recent years.

HER STEADY ADVANCE

Coming right on top of the fact that a million dollar blast furnace is now under course of construction, the announcement that the Portsmouth Steel company will at once proceed to the erection of a two million dollar bi-product coke plant is even more than doubly welcome.

Years ago, when it was officially given out that the Norfolk & Western shops and terminals would be located here, President Johnson gave it as his opinion that at no distant day industrial plants would line the whole river front from the terminals east end to Sciotoville, saying he regarded that immediate section as the most promising of quick and tremendous development anywhere in the Ohio valley, from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati. His forecast is certainly being rapidly verified. The smoke from a number of big and busy plants are already going up from that particular section and they stretch from the terminals to Sciotoville. There are the Breece hub and spoke works, the Peabbles, Carlyle and Star Yards paving brick plants, and monarch of them all the mammoth steel works, which in another year will have more employees on its payroll than any other enterprise in the county. It's pleasant to realize that contemporaneous with the rapid expansion of the steel works goes the accelerated prosperity of all the big-gest industries of the locality. The terminals are constantly enlarging, the shoe factories continue steady growth and the brick plants are vigorously adding both to increase of fame and production.

While rejoicing at the evident purpose of the steel plant to take early position as Scioto's biggest industry, let us take occasion to inject right here that we have by no means lost faith in brick and apples. We still stand by our original prophecy of fifteen years ago that the greater gain and glory of Scioto county is to come from these two. With clay being dug from one side of every hill and apples ripening on the other, it can't be otherwise. Men of genius are making vast industries about here, mainly out of their ability and industry, but God put the riches for all in the hills and the people need only industry to dig and to plant to garner thereof.

Bluefield has got the idea in her head that she can't be a real city until she has a public library. That may be, but at the same time she may well be chary about mentioning the idea to one Carnegie.

Now they have discovered that Peary didn't discover the North Pole, neither did he discover any land thereabouts, because there is no land to discover. What a pity this was not postponed until a more opportune date, so that we might have something to talk about after the war and election are over.

Yes, it is going to help the gallantry of the game so much when women get into it. Republican national committee is officially and specifically making the statement. Mrs. Antoinette jumped from Hughes to Wilson because headquarters gave that "other hateful thing" the job she was looking for at headquarters.

All the stamp taxes are to go with the end of the year. There will be no mourning. In the main they were pesky and produced no revenue commensurate with the irritation they provoked.

For the first time in its history The Times, in its Carnival edition, carried a big advertisement from a country general merchant. Incidentally we would say it was a mighty good advertisement at that.

A Democratic philosopher observes that a ten cent loaf isn't so exceedingly vital, seeing as most of us have the coin.

DAYS THAT STICK IN THE MEMORY

BED TIME TALES

By CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

Mother Beaver's Secret

I TELL you! It didn't take long for Bushy Beaver to dive down, down, down into Crooked Creek when he felt the rush and whirl of Hoot, the Owl, wings over him! Indeed it didn't. Bushy didn't care if Little Brother did want a fish; he didn't care if he had promised to get him one; he didn't care anything except for his safety. He dove down to the bottom of the creek and then swam, silently and carefully, ever toward the shore.

As he felt the weeds at the water's edge brush against his sides, he ventured to stick his nose over as little out of the water and see what was going on. Not a sound did he hear, not a sound. But Bushy was not to be fooled. He waited a good long time before he climbed out of the water and found Little Brother—he meant to take care of his promise. And wasn't Little Brother glad to see him? I just guess he was! Gladder than he'd ever been in all his little life, for you see, he had heard the rush of the owl's wings and he had seen Hoot fly up from the water with the fish in his mouth. No wonder he had been anxious about Bushy!

"But I got nothing for you to eat," complained Bushy, "and you are so hungry."

"Never mind about me," said Little Brother, "I'll eat back any day rather than have you go into that creek again. I wish Mother was here, she'd help us find something good. Where do you suppose she went, Bushy?"

Bushy was just about to say, "How should I know?" when there was a stir in the weeds beside them. Bushy and Little Brother crouched down low together and waited. They were so frightened they could hardly breathe! This Wigglewag country might be all very well, but it certainly was a scolding place to stay without one's father's mother!

But this time, they needn't have worried for the stir in the weeds was caused by, who do you suppose?

There was a stir in the weeds beside them.

Scenario writers are welcome to the idea, but upon reflection it would make better material for a Fable in Slang by George Ade.

K. C. Beaton, the columnist from the Pacific Coast, went down to Long Beach the other day to take a plunge in the surf. He was holding to a rope and there was a man right next to him when a big wave hit them both.

Beaton floundered and kicked him in the stomach and he sort of choked and apologized and they started talking again, but another wave pushed them under and after awhile they became good friends.

Finally the stranger said he would have to go and Beaton had enough, and so on the way to the dressing room he said to the stranger: "Wait for me after you are dressed and we will go upstairs and have a little something."

When Beaton came out he found his friend was a minister in clerical garb and they went up stairs and ate toast and drank tea. They had a good time, but it is Beaton's opinion that all ministers should be tattooed when they are in the water. He is not exactly clear on just exactly what he said when those waves hit him.

Daly's Theatre is a sad spot for New Yorkers who knew it in its glory. Today it is the home of cheap melodrama and blood-curdling moving pictures. Those who pass it cannot help but wonder what Augustin Daly would say. There is a plan now afoot to buy the building and have it torn down and erect a skyscraper to be known as the Daly Building.

The street car strike did one thing at least. It made a lot of New Yorkers walk who rarely get any exercise.

"What do you think of the strike?" asked a friend of Remond Wolf.

"Great!" was the reply. "It keeps one out in the open air."

Men who owned automobiles reaped a harvest the first day of the tie-up by charging taxicab rates for conveying passengers from their homes to their offices down town.

There were so many extra cabs, taxis and privately owned automobiles that traffic was heavier than ever before, despite the fact that the surface cars were practically out of commission.

A British soldier went into a grocery establishment to buy some articles. Seeing some red herrings lying on the counter, he asked what they were.

"Soldiers, my friend," said the grocer, winking at the company.

"Are they?" rejoined the son of Mars. "Then I'll take them as deserters," and off he walked with his prisoners, to the discomfiture of the witty grocer and the amusement of the bystanders.

THE HAVOC INCREASES

Twenty-three persons were killed in automobile accidents, Sunday last. More than one-half of them met their death at railroad crossings, and a majority were inexperienced drivers. Nevertheless, the grade crossing plays no favorites and the train yields track right of way to no intruder. The safest way in approaching a railroad crossing is to slow down and all do some intense listening and hearing. With laughter and chatter behind him, the driver is all too apt to be distracted from acts of prudence. Placing the foot on the break, or vice versa, instead of on the accelerator is the cause of a good many accidents, that otherwise could be avoided by a narrow margin.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

By O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Sept. 21—When I was "the" reporter on "the" newspaper in Gallipolis, O., and chased the elusive item from the saw-mill on the south of Main street to the depot on the north, my employer was W. G. Sibley, editor, author and lecturer.

Naturally when I came to New York and became a resident in a large hotel, knew a few people on Broadway and could call George M. Cohn "George," it was my pet ambition to have Sibley come to New York so I could awe him with my smooth metropolitan airs.

Well the auspicious moment arrived the other day. Sibley galloped into New York in a private car with Charles G. Dawes, a Chicago millionaire, and the man who built the Dawes hotels in a modest little rose and old gold suite at the Waldorf and after hanging about the desk long enough for the house detectives to become restless I was told as firmly and as politely as it is possible for a hotel clerk to tell anyone, that Mr. Sibley could spare me twenty minutes the next day.

But the next day it seems that he and Mr. Dawes had a little engagement to dine with J. Pierpont Morgan in his Wall street offices, and through an oversight or something they neglected me. I waited the next day, but Mayor Mitchell had kept them longer than he expected, so they departed without me realizing

A petition of George W. D. Brown, an invalid former city fireman, of 606 John street, asking for aid from the city was referred to the fire committee.

Auditor Zueker's financial statement showed a net balance August 31 of $178,841.72.

The reading of the financial statement prompted Mayor Kaps, addressing remarks to the visitors present, to declare that the service and safety funds over-drafts were not caused by the present administration but had been inherited and that the present officials were doing the best that they can.

Ordinances were passed for the improvement of Kendall avenue from Gallia street to the E. & O. right of way, appropriating $668 to pay the Gallia paving damage claims at East Portsmouth and accepting the 2 1/4 per cent bids of the local banks as depositaries for the use of public monies.

Clerk Zueker reported having completed serving of notices for the improvement of Kendall avenue and Dexter avenue.

Service Director Calvert reported that the sewer fund was about exhausted and recommended a bond issue for that purpose. Chairman Wilson, of the finance committee, believed the time for constructing sewers was about past and suggested that petitions for new sewers be held and when a sufficient number had accumulated to justify a bond issue council could then act. This was satisfactory to the director.

Mr. Calvert also reported that Poplar street property owners wanted a sewer to connect with the culvert that ends at Brunner's Run under Gallia pike but he thought such would cost $3,000.

Zaph Addition Controversy Is Renewed; Street Fair License Passed By Council

A spirited discussion of the Zaph addition controversy engulfed the city council meeting of Wednesday night.

Chairman Riekey, of the street committee, reported that the committee was unable to get Mr. Zaph to do anything, he refusing to waive anything but signified his willingness to sell a strip of ground on the east side of his tract.

Mr. Johnson asked if the committee had any recommendation to make. Mr. Riekey said he personally would recommend that no privileges of any nature be granted to the addition until there was some way of opening the street.

Mr. Vandervort said Zaph was willing to sell his part of the strip on Sunset avenue at $35 per front foot but he did not consider that this was of any interest to the city though it might be, he added, laughingly, to Turley & Jordan, turning to Mr. Jordan who was present.

Mr. Cramer said Mr. Zaph was also insisting that the purchasers of his strip lay walks and assume the street assessment.

Mr. Jordan said: "We're not interested at all. We have nothing facing on Sunset avenue, although we are interested in getting Twentieth street open. It is paved but closed to travel although within the city limits. We feel that the city is interested because it is along its school property."

Mayor Kaps now asked Mr. Jordan the question if at the time the board of education purchased the school property the Sunnyside Realty company had not agreed to have a street on all three sides and that 25 ft. was dedicated for that purpose. Mr. Jordan said he was unable to answer that as he at that time had not become interested in the company.

"I blame the board of education for that," said the mayor as he resumed his seat.

Judge Osborn, who was present, said the plat accepted by the city was 25 ft. He said he was not present to engage in the Zaph controversy but said he simply wished to enlighten council on one thing. He said he was a member of council at the time and that the plat had been accepted by then Service Director Gergens, who in the absence of a platting commission, constituted a platting officer and that the owners of the realty company had lived up to their every agreement.

Mayor Kaps asked if it was not a fact that the stakes had been set 6 ft. over on the Zaph line. Judge Osborn replied that the time to have raised those questions was when the plat was up for acceptance, adding he knew nothing of the mistakes in surveys but did know the plat was accepted after it had been thoroughly gone over repeatedly.

City Engineer Harper asked the privilege of the floor. "The judge suggests that the owners of the Zaph land were cognizant that the Sunnyside Realty company was to leave a 25 ft. street."

"The Sunnyside Realty company laid out an addition and sold to the school board a tract bounded on the east by Waller, south by Kinney Lane and north by Twentieth street and on the west by Sunset street, which, according to their original plat they had left 30 ft. for the east half of a 60 ft. street. They also reserved, according to their plat, one foot to the west of the 30 ft. as a devil's strip so that Mr. Zaph when he platted his property would be unable to join the 30 ft. dedicated by the realty company. This was done without any consultation with Mr. Zaph. Mr. Zaph when he started to plat his property left 30 ft. to make Sunset street 60 ft. in width as shown by their plat. When the survey was made of the Zaph property it was discovered that the Sunnyside company had encroached upon Mr. Zaph 6 ft., which gave him the one foot devil strip and 5 ft. of the 30 ft. left by their plat. Before any land lines were destroyed the attention of Mr. Turley and Mr. Labold was called to the matter. They made an agreement with Mr. Zaph to purchase the 5 ft. so that they might give 30 ft. and he 30 ft. Price was agreed upon and the paving of Twentieth street was started from Chillicothe street to Sunset street and the return curbs put in for a 60 ft. street.

"In the meantime Mr. Turley and Mr. Labold had neglected to settle with Mr. Zaph as agreed. They then sent upon the ground Mr. Kinley, their engineer, who wished to make the street 50 ft. instead of 60 ft. as agreed upon, saving them from the necessity of purchasing the 5 ft. as agreed upon. All returns and catch basins had been put in upon the basis of a 60 ft. right of way for the street and if any change should have been made it would have necessitated the tearing out and rebuilding all curbs and catch basins and of this expense they wished Mr. Zaph to pay one-half. Mr. Turley until this day has never made any explanation to Mr. Zaph as to why the original agreement was ignored by him."

Replying to a statement made by Mr. Jordan that the present engineer had approved the plans of the Sunnyside Realty company Mr. Harper said that this was absolutely false.

Mr. Jordan explained that as soon as he bought an interest in the realty company he had made every effort to get the situation cleared up, had repeatedly called upon Mr. Harper. He referred to Mr. Harper as the agent of the Zaph estate. "That's not true," said Mr. Harper, Mr. Jordan, apologetically, saying he had thought he was. He said when ever he did see Mr. Harper he would either tell him he was unable to see Zaph or unable to get him to do anything.

Quite a delegation of East End citizens was on hands to urge the purchase by the city of the triangular strip of ground at the intersection of Twelfth street and Robinson avenue and thus keep it from becoming the site of a proposed laundry building. Walter Norris went so far as suggest to council that even if Mrs. C. E. Krowine, owner of the center of the strip did enter into contract to sell the ground to private parties that the city institute condemnation proceedings.

City Solicitor Skelton reported that he and the street committee had investigated and found that Mrs. Krowine was obligated to other parties for two weeks and therefore would not put a price on the ground but that she could give some definite answer by the next council meeting.

Al Lechner, who appeared to be the leader of the delegation, said that the movement to convert the three-cornered strip into a park was of six years standing, that repeated appeals had been made to city council but that they always met with the statement that there were no funds available. He stated that an organization of East End ladies stood ready to supply the park with a drinking fountain. He suggested that a narrow walk be constructed around the curbing, trees planted and flowers and benches be placed.

Phil Lorey declared the residents of the neighborhood were of a class that took pride in keeping their homes in good shape and felt the city should co-operate and remove the "eye sore," pointing out that Robinson avenue had become one of the city's main boulevards and is extensively traveled by tourists.

Mr. Norris felt that the erection of a laundry building on the strip would be a detriment to surrounding property and mar the whole neighborhood. He thought now was the opportunity for a park. J. W. Jordan also spoke briefly, saying members of the delegation were all of one accord and desired that the city give them the asked for park.

Mayor Kaps stated that the board of control had been waited upon by the prospective buyers with a view to purchasing the city's portion of the strip but that the board had taken the attitude not to do anything that might be a detriment to the neighbors around the strip.

Upon motion of Mr. Wilson the licitor and street committee were given further time for making a final report.

Mr. Johnson, amid smiles, reported that the city solicitor had held that the street fair licensing ordinance was ineffective because it had been passed within the 10 day limit after the mayor had vetoed it and he suggested that it be read again by the clerk. After the reading Mr. Vandervort moved the passage of the ordinance. The motion passed by a vote of 5 to 1, Mr. Wilson alone voting "No." Mr. Roush, who was also opposed to the ordinance, was absent.

A protest of Poplar street property owners against the proposed improvement of that street was referred to the street committee and service department.

Exposition of Fall and Winter Wear

Every need for fall and winter is ready for you in this store. Everything necessary to make you look comfortable and feel comfortable. And the best part of it all is the moderate prices.

After what has been perhaps the most strenuous buying season our department heads have ever experienced, when we have had to contend for merchandise of all sorts and pay advanced prices for most of it, we have finally gathered a most remarkable showing of ready-to-wear garments of merit all along the line including blouses, suits, dresses and coats, not to mention the millinery and the smaller dress accessories.

At this, the very beginning of the new season we can say for you to come now for all things are ready.

Here's the chance to fill your needs at the least possible cost. At any rate come and see this showing. No need to buy, but the chances are you can't help it when you see the showing.

Popular New Dresses

These new dresses exploited last week and offered to an exacting public, are scoring heavily and winning their way like a popular favorite. Especially are the moderate serge dresses so well liked in every style center meeting with the public and individual favor they deserve. Then the silk dresses with the apron string belts are taking well and are worthy of your early attention.

The prices range from $7.98 to $37.50 and the range of styles and models is the widest you could wish.

These Separate Coats Will Appeal

The new separate coats, differing considerably from last season's styles, are at once attractive from the slightly lines they possess. The coats which are mostly about three-quarters length have a lot of flare to them which produces a delightful and pleasing effect with style a plenty. Fur trimmings, buttons and fancy silk linings compose most of the decorations on fabrics which are mostly Velour, Plush and Scotch Mixtures.

Of unusual merit is our special showing of imported Velour coats in black at $40.00 to $100.00, while the prices on other separate coats range from $7.50 up.

Pretty Blouses in Crepes and Linen

It doesn't take a modiste to see that crepe waists are popular for the well dressed women are wearing them and we are selling them. The demand keeps up well and our stock is still able to offer you the more desirable models in Georgette and Crepe de Chine in the white and flesh at $2.50 to $7.50. Of course these blouses have the new style medium large collars and fichus. At $5.00 and $6.00 our values appear unusual and we will be glad to show these models to you.

The new silk blouses for wear with suits in the pretty dark shades such as Brown, Navy and Burgandy are a necessary requisite and are very appealing. We have a splendid showing and more continually en route.

TAILORED WHITE LINEN WAISTS have a very definite place among the popular blouses. These we show trimmed in dainty hand embroidery work and crocheted buttons. These waists of course launder well and are really extremely serviceable. The prices range from $2.50 to $3.98. One of these blouses will add materially to your autumn wardrobe.

Attractive Autumn and Winter Suits

We are pleased to offer what we consider a very strong line of new and stylish suits in spite of the difficulties encountered in the way of curtailed productions and advanced prices, and we believe that you can easily become suited here.

The new suits are mostly of Serge, Poplin, Broadcloth, Gabardine, Wool Velour and typical of all the new autumn garments they are not overloaded with trimmings. Bits of fur with here and there touches of plush and velvet and numerous buttons comprise the greater portion of the neat yet sufficient trimmings.

Many of the coats are the belted and semi-belted styles while the skirts are still pretty short. In all, you will seldom find a season when the suits are more appealing and a purchase now will give you pleasing satisfaction for an entire season.

Prices range from $15.00 to $60.00.

15 minutes. Add one dozen green corn cut from the cob, cook 15 minutes longer, put in glass jars and seal. It is very fine and will keep all winter.

Dear Miss Wise—Does cold cream make hair grow on the face?
LINDA.

Some cold creams cause hair to grow on the face, but there are many that are guaranteed not to. Have your druggist recommend one that will not.

Dear Miss Wise—Is it too early to wear fur on suits? When does the fur season begin? And what kind of fur do you think will be the most popular?
KITTY.

The so-called "fur season" begins as soon as it is cool enough to wear it, which generally means about the beginning of October or a little earlier, if the weather becomes settled. Any kind of fur that adapts itself to trimming can be used with good effect.

Dear Miss Wise—Should a girl help a boy put on his coat?

Should the girl take the boy's things or tell him where to put them?
BELE.

It is not etiquette for a girl to assist a boy when he puts on his coat. She should tell him where to put them.

Letter, W. Va.—Dear Miss Dolly Wise—I am very much obliged to you for answering the question I asked you concerning the pennies the school children were saving. The other two questions you said were too foolish to answer. They were not half as foolish as some questions you have been asked. What does the United States do with the holes in the postage stamps? Isn't that foolish? And the weight of the earth? And what is the best position to lay down in to sleep? I call them foolish. Now Miss Dolly, the question I asked you is not so foolish. What about cutting a board 16 inches long, 9 inches wide and filling it in a square foot hole. The question I asked you has been used. I will work it for you. Fill up the 4 gallon keg out of the 10 gallon keg, then fill the 8 gallon keg out of the 4 gallon keg, then pour the 3 gallons back into the 10 gallon keg. Put the one gallon left in the 4 gallon keg in the 3 gallon, then fill the 4 gallon out of the 10 gallon again. There you have it. Now Miss Dolly, you know that a woman will try to have the last word or die. A man tried to keep his wife from saying scissors, and he choked her. Then she crossed her fingers and worked them like a pair of scissors. Why is it a woman can't cheat a man out of the last word. I am looking for this real soon.
MR. B. L.

Dear Miss Wise—I was away this summer and I met a young man who wants me to write to him. I got a letter from him. How long should I wait to answer it?

VACATION GIRL.
A week or two.

Dear Dolly—Will you tell me where I can find the characters of Ariel, Argente, and Frankenstein?

STUDENT.
Ariel is a spirit in Shakespeare's

"Tempest." Argente is a giantess in Spencer's "Fairy Queen." Frankenstein tells of a monstrous creation which gives its name to a romance by Mary Shelley.

Dear Dolly—I have been going with a fellow and lately he has stopped taking me and takes my younger sister. Both of us like him, and she won't give him up. As long as I want with him first I think she should and so does my mother. What can I do to make her give him up?
MARGERY.

The boy will go with the girl he likes best, no matter what you do to make him go with you. If he gets an idea that you are trying to keep your sister from going with him, he will certainly never go with you again. Just act as though you don't care and he may of his own accord decide to go back to you again. If I were in your place I would be too proud to want him to come back.

Dear Miss Wise—Are colored handkerchiefs in good form, or are white ones always best? One sees so much of the new silk ones in every kind of color, and I would like to know whether or not they are in good taste.
MABEL.

Strictly speaking, white correspondence paper and white handkerchiefs are always the best, but in the latter case this rule has been relaxed, and it is quite in conformity with good form to have colored handkerchiefs as a means of setting off one's dress. Colors and combinations that are too dazzling, however, are merely an object of ridicule and not of beauty.

Amid Roar Of Kannon, Kohorts Whooped Up Things In Chilly

Local Delegation Visits Farmers' Fall Festival; Now For Big Show Here

A squad of Korn Kannon Kohorts and their artillery, accompanied a delegation of local business men to the Chillicothe Farmers' Fall Festival Wednesday afternoon, where the Kannon heralded the many advantages of attending the Greater 1916 Korn Kannon, which will open formally Wednesday noon, September 27. On returning the Portsmouth delegation reported that the Chillicothe festival was a splendid affair and that the booths were very fine.

Just a few days remain now until the Kannon spirit will be prevailing the inmost recesses of the community. Already all engagements for the coming week are being cancelled where possible, so that the Kannon might be enjoyed.

Each day will be distinctly different from the preceding one, and each one will be crammed full of amusement and pleasing sights.

There will be the opening event, the Korn Kannon Komuniti Kamp dinner, which will be held at Tracy park, Ninth and Chillicothe streets, Wednesday noon. In the evening the gigantic Industrial-Breasters' parade will wind its way through the principal streets.

To see the diversified industrial interests located in Portsmouth alone will be worth considerable.

On the second day there will be a Farmers' parade, which will be just one long moving line of handsome, sleek farm animals, products of the fields and blooded stock. This will move at 10 o'clock. Then in the afternoon a Quartette Contest and a cake walk contest are to be staged.

Crops Are Damaged

According to the Vanenburg, Ky., Sun, heavy frosts in Lewis county the past few days, have caused much damage to tobacco and other crops.

TURNER BOUND OVER

Prize Winner No. 5

(By Florence Wilson, 1724 Grandview Avenue)

Jim Turner, the colored chauffeur, who drove the Overland touring car which was wrecked near Rosamont Road Saturday night, was bound over to the grand jury by Mayor H. H. Kaps Wednesday evening in the sum of $300.

Turner pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving a car without the owner's consent. The penalty for this offense is a penitentiary sentence of from one to three years.

Turner was defended by Attorney Theo. K. Funk who waived the examination of his own witness F. E. Bower who had the car in storage testified to the taking of the car from his Second street building without his knowledge and how it had been badly damaged.

Officers Flowers and Albrecht testified to their arrest of Turner. Marion White, the other colored man in the "joy-riding" party, is still at large and Chief Henry Clark has not yet fully established the identity of the two white girls supposed to have been in the automobile. Turner's mother furnished bond for him Thursday morning and he was released from custody.

Walker Better

Frank Walker, of Louisville, Ky., who was recently badly hurt in a fall from a three-story building, has taken a change for the better and it is now believed he will recover. Walker formerly resided in the North End.

Condition More Favorable

Although unconscious since Sunday afternoon attending physicians report the condition of James Snedecor seven year old Sciotoville lad more favorable. He spent a good night Wednesday and Thursday morning was given milk nourishment. Snedecor fell a distance of forty feet from the Little Scioto river traction bridge.

We will go over to Luck and English, 511 Chillicothe street. They will convince you that Ellen needs glasses to relieve the headache as this is from eye-strain.

I would like to go to the Royal Savings & Loan, 819 Gallia street, to deposit these pennies. Sister has saved one thousand pennies and gets 4% interest.

We must not fail to visit the Hutchison-Wamser Music Co., 1003 Gallia. This is Portsmouth's progressive music center.

Now for your furniture. D. A. Alsbaugh, 530-532 Second street, is the place. Here you can get the right kind, price and terms.

For the screens and lawn mower, we will go to the Central Hardware Co., 443-445 Second. This is the store for satisfactory goods and prices.

Just one other thing. I would like to look after sporting goods. You can certainly find what you want at Henry Roth's, 420 Chillicothe street. His line is complete from a fishing hook to a canoe.

Well uncle, there comes our car, we must hasten. Some other time we will visit the other stores.

Mr. Dickey and Miss Kyle, in order to surprise their friends, motored to Portsmouth yesterday and were married by Rev. D. F. Caudill, of the First Baptist church. The wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Nurnberger, awaiting their arrival. Here a delightful reception was given the young people."

Buffalo Bill And Famous Wild West Show Visit City Today

Big Crowd Enjoys The Afternoon Performance

There was plenty to stir the imagination of both young and old America in the parade of the Buffalo Bill-Miller Brothers' Wild West Show today. The big show arrived here early today from Jackson and pitched its tents at Sixteenth and Findlay streets.

A capacity audience witnessed the afternoon performance. The show tonight begins at 8 o'clock.

The happy faced children viewing the parade this morning might have told you that their chief interest centered in the gaudily painted Indians, while their elders would not deny that Buffalo Bill himself was the chief attraction. The veteran scout of American frontiers, the crack shot with pistol and rifle, who has figured in so many daring exploits, rode at the head of his interesting exhibition, driving two valuable horses raised on the plains. Though more than seventy years old he betrayed none of the feebleness of advanced years. Applause greeted him everywhere and he was kept busy swinging his sombrero.

There are three bands in the show, more than four hundred horses and as many employees. Closely following Colonel Cody there were four squaws in single file, painted and decked with feathers, as most of the children had never seen them before. Feathers in their headresses were not sufficient, so each one carried a five-foot sheaf of feathers of all colors. Following a band drawn by eight horses, one saw a steer that looked as if he enjoyed the rough handling of the cow boys twice a day in the exhibitions much better than gazing into the faces of the populace.

Indians again! This time they were displayed in their natural habitats. A six-horse team drew a heavy wagon, on which were two tepees, arranged just as they are to be seen, even today, on the Western reservations and on the show grounds.

The Indians, however, must have betrayed their grief over the death of the Chief Iron Tail, for years ruler of the Indians with this show, who had just died yesterday, the braves chose Chief Flying Hawk as Iron Tail's successor. He fought in the Custer massacre, and is about the same age as his predecessor. He rode at the head of the Indians today. Mexicans, Arabs, Cossacks and Japanese, cowboys and cow girls, rode their little ponies with the abandon that one would expect of daring riders, who thrill large audiences twice a day at the exhibitions. And the same can be said of the United States army men, who are on furlough, that they may take part in a military pageant, entitled "Preparedness". There were two of the regular army field pieces in the parade, loaned by the government, for the mimic battles which includes cavalry charges and artillery duels. A battle with the Indians is one of the incidental features. One also saw in the parade a fine specimen of the American bison, with which the name of the Buffalo Bill has been so intimately associated. No men or groups of men ever killed so many of these great animals of the west as the veteran crack shot of the show.

Lastly, the callopie. What child, looking upon it for the first time as it thundered out its tones, did not regard it as the invention of another world!

Socialists Lambast Hughes, Wilson, The Newspapers, Etc.

Proclaiming President Wilson as the J. P. Morgan candidate and Hon. Charles E. Hughes the Republican presidential nominee as the choice of John D. Rockefeller, Hon. Allan L. Benson, Socialist nominee for president, in an address before several hundred people at Distel hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets, Wednesday night, bitterly denounced the present administration and the Republican nominee and urged all citizens to cast their ballot for the Socialist ticket in the fall election.

His chief attack on the present administration was centered about the passage of a bill on June 3, this year, which empowered the president of the United States to draft all citizens of a military age into the army and navy.

Believing that his messages were just as important as the Democratic and Republican contenders for presidential honors, he assailed the newspapers of the United States for not carrying detailed accounts of his speeches.

It was near nine o'clock when he arrived and started his address. He declared that every four years the people were called upon to sit as a court upon the political issues of the day and that each candidate espousing the cause of his party was compelled to travel about the country to present the issues.

He drew an analogy between, in which he told of two litigants presenting a case to a court. One of them had a good case while the other "dared not to allow it to go before the court and attempted to keep it away," he declared. "Precisely is the Socialist party met in all campaigns and you American people are the judges."

After denouncing the newspapers of the country for not presenting the cause of the Socialist party, he asked the people of Portsmouth to watch the local paper. "I want you to watch your local paper. It is an Associated Press paper. I want you to ask yourself whether it is fair and honest and who is suppressing the news. The things we talk about is of as much moment as that which Mr. Hughes asks. Mr. Hughes was very much exercised for four or five days on his western trip over the president appointing a horse doctor. Then why should our cause not be given as much space as the denunciations of Mr. Hughes?"

"Why have the newspapers of this country not mentioned the bill which gives the president the power to draft all citizens of the United States of military age?"

"Here on June 3, the president signed a bill in which was smuggled a clause giving the president of the United States the power to draft any and all American citizens of a military age, which is between 18 and 45 years. Did the newspapers print this?"

The speaker pulled a piece of paper from his pocket and read a portion of the bill, then commented upon it. "We are all potential members of the militia," he exclaimed. "I have the honor to be a member of the unorganized National Guard of New York."

"How did the word draft get into the bill?" he asked. "When the bill passed the House it was not there. The bill went to the Senate and was returned to the House. Then it was referred to a conference committee. And in this conference committee the word was changed to draft. But now who were the members of this committee? There were seven of them."

der and the word draft means two entirely two different things," he said to have been part of the speaker's answer. "Now when," the speaker asked, "did Senator Hay give the correct definition of the word draft; the first time or the second time. Both are entirely different. Both cannot be right."

"Why has Mr. Wilson bestowed praise on every act of his administration? Yet he has never boasted of this draft law. Yet on the other hand Mr. Hughes has never criticized Mr. Wilson for signing the draft law. Why didn't he come out and take credit for it. Because he doesn't dare too."

He explained that the Socialist party had discovered a new way to get their issues before the American people. "We have organized a wonderful army of 20,000 workers who meet each Sunday at eight o'clock from San Francisco to Maine and take leaflets which I have prepared and sent by telegraph from Chicago and distribute them from door to door."

"In the little town of Portsmouth, there will be 4,000 copies distributed."

He called attention to the military appropriation of the United States for this year. Germany's appropriation in 1913 was $293,000,000. "What can you say about $662,000,000 for the United States army and navy for this year?" he asked, after quoting statistics from other nations before the European war started.

"Every vote for President Wilson will be construed in Washington and Wall Street as a vote of indifference for the military appropriation and draft law," the speaker claimed. "Every vote for Mr. Hughes will be construed as a vote of indifference in Washington and Wall Street and still the Republican contention is that congress should have made it larger. What can a person do but vote the Socialist ticket, when he does not believe in a military program. It is the one party in America that protests against it."

"The state of New York last year with a dying legislature, without a warning to the people mind you; the legislature enacted a law giving the governor arbitrary power to draft into the National Guard any man of military age and good health and as I told you that the president had the power to draft into the federal service any and all National Guards, you can see what it is leading to."

He also claimed that a bill had been passed in New York requiring all school children to take a certain amount of physical training under the supervision of the State Military Board. He said he had some boys but that he had gotten to them first before they were spoiled.

Since New York has taken this step other states will follow, he said. Then it will be nationalized.

He asked why such great preparation was being made by the United States for eventualities after the European war and answered it by saying that the big

"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes in with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of corns and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use knives that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use masters that make the corns hurt, or glue, and gouge at their corns and make themselves bleed. You see, 'GOTS-IT' is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on, let it dry instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn falls or work loosens and comes off. industries and big business interests of the country had acquired export trade belonging to the nations at war and intended to hold it at any cost. He declared that the country that was feared was Germany.

England, he declared, held the greatest trade on the seas today and had made gains since the war instead of losing and that the working class of that country was more depressed than any other in the world. During the Boer war the military authorities were perplexed over the underfed and under-sized recruits presented to them. Even when the present army was mobilized the military requirements had to be reduced.

A circular purported to have been published by the banking houses in American was presented to the audience and an insert was read in which was "There is nothing for business to be alarmed about" over the election of either Mr. Hughes or Wilson.

"They would not have said that," declared the speaker, "if I were to be the next president."

"We Socialists contend that Hughes is the Rockefeller candidate and precisely Mr. Wilson is the choice of Morgan and yet, we do not give it any serious concern. They differ only as two dogs over a bone."

He told of Hughes being connected with a suit in the New York courts, during his younger days in which he represented an electric company and that Hughes argued that his concern had a constitutional right to lay electric cables. The court decided in favor of the plaintiff and told Mr. Hughes: "You proceed upon the assumption that nobody but your clients have any right."

When Hughes was elected governor of New York, he said that Rockefeller contributed $20,000 to his campaign fund and that Hughes and young Rockefeller were good friends during their younger days.

"When Wilson became president he made William McAdoo a member of his cabinet and Mr. McAdoo complimented Mr. Wilson by making him his father-in-law."

McAdoo, he said, had constructed the McAdoo tubes between Jersey and Manhattan for the Morgan house. "Some people when they mention the McAdoo tubes in New York say that they connect Jersey with Manhattan, while others say that they connect Wall Street with Washington."

Contentions were made by the speaker that in a way, it was beneficial for a large banking house to have a friend in the White House. For an example, he declared that Morgan had negotiated the European war loan, making more money than his father did in a life time.

In concluding the speaker contended that government ownership of large industries and home consumption of the products were the conditions that would be ideal. By doing this, he said that the working hours would be reduced to a minimum and enjoyment to a maximum.

Referring back to the Wilson administration, he quoted a sentence in which President Wilson urged "increased efficiency in labor throughout the industrial system." Taking this sentence, the speaker declared that it gave a strict view of the president toward justice to labor. And another "By doing justice to labor, not only by paying a living wage but also making all conditions surrounding labor what they ought to be."

This statement he attacked, claiming that the president did know that labor was underpaid and the living conditions were not what they should be.

He asked how many had acquired a small amount of the "flaunted 48 billions of increased prosperity which the president was boasting about."

In closing, he said that he was for America for Americans, where "all could get what happiness they could before death closed their eyes."

THEATRICAL

The Sun

The Globe Trotters' Musical Show at The Sun theatre is a lively number and the bill they presented yesterday, matinee and night, was a decided hit with the patrons. "The Red Widow" is the comedy and will be repeated today. A graceful bunch of good-looking girls make up the choruses, their singing and dancing and many of their numbers made a hit. An entire change of costumes in every number makes this the best dressed chorus that has played this theatre. Mr. Lemwood, the black-face comedian, furnished many a good, hearty laugh, while Mr. Kennedy, as Finnigan does his share to make things funny. Some clever dancing and good singing add just what's needed to make it a very enjoyable show. The photo-plays for today will be an Essanay three-part drama, "Repentance," presented by Anne Leigh and John Lorenze.

Referring back to the Wilson administration, he quoted a sentence in which President Wilson urged "increased efficiency in labor throughout the industrial system." Taking this sentence, the speaker declared that it gave a strict view of the president toward justice to labor. And another "By doing justice to labor, not only by paying a living wage but also making all conditions surrounding labor what they ought to be."

This statement he attacked, claiming that the president did know that labor was underpaid and the living conditions were not what they should be.

In closing, he said that he was for America for Americans, where "all could get what happiness they could before death closed their eyes."

Before the meeting convened Wednesday evening, George H. Goebel, Newark, N. J., member of the Socialist national executive committee, was introduced by Walter Bagby, acting chairman of the meeting. Goebel arraigned the Republicans and the Democrats in several humorous stories. Goebel said that he organized the first Socialist party in Portsmouth several years ago.

Extensive Centers For Scioto County Teachers

County Superintendent E. O. McGowan has arranged for extension work for the teachers of the county. Prof. Robert Ellis, of Ohio University, will meet the teachers at the Sciotoville school house Friday evening, September 22, at 7 o'clock, to organize a class. All teachers who are in easy reach of Sciotoville are urged to be at the meeting, as 15 are required to establish a class.

At 10:30 a. m., Saturday, September 23, Miss Bartlett, of Miami University, will meet the teachers at the office of the County Superintendent in Portsmouth to organize another class. All teachers who can reach Portsmouth for that meeting and who want extension work are urged to be present.

Prof. Ellis's class will meet every week from 7 to 9 on Friday evenings at Sciotoville. Miss Bartlett's class will run a double period, beginning at 10:30 a. m. on Saturday and will meet only every other Saturday, thus making only 8 recitations to get full credit by doing double work. The regular number of recitations when regular work is done is 15. This will make the expenses less for teachers who have to come a considerable distance.

Miss Bartlett will also meet with the teachers at the school house at Hurdon, Saturday, September 23, at 3 p. m. The teachers of Brush Creek township, Utwa, Hurdon, Rarden township, Morgan township and Union township are urged to be present at this meeting as 15 are required to organize a center.

Prof. Ellis will have a center at Portsmouth with the city teachers from 4 to 6 p. m. on Friday evenings. Teachers of the county unit who prefer and who are within easy reach of Portsmouth can attend the center from 4 to 6 with the city teachers. The county superintendent has tried to arrange for centers at other places in the county, but the Extension Department of the Universities have so much work that they cannot promise as more. It may be that 1 or 2 other centers may be arranged for after further conference with Prof. Ellis.

CENTRAL POWERS WAGING DECISIVE CONFLICT ALONG BALKAN FRONT

Sofia, Sept. 20. (Via London, Sept. 21.)—Bulgarian successes in the Florina district on the Macedonian front are announced by the war office in today's official statement. The tide of battle turned favorably to the Bulgarians, who inflicted heavy losses on the enemy forces in operations in which the Bulgarian cavalry took part. The statement reads: "Macedonian front: The battles around Florina are developing favorably for us. In strong counter-attacks in which our cavalry participated the enemy was repulsed with great losses. The plateau is covered with enemy dead. We captured one officer and 11 men of a Russian brigade and 100 men of the 175th French regiment, with two machine guns. A strong enemy attack against Kaimakalan failed with great losses. "In the Moglenia valley the situation is unchanged. There was artillery activity on both sides. "Minor infantry engagements occurred both east and west of the Vardar, also artillery firing. "On the Struma front there was feeble artillery action."

WESTERN EDITOR SUPPORTS WILSON

New York, Sept. 21.—Victor Minick, editor of the Wichita Eagle, and a pioneer of the Progressive movement in the West, has declared unqualifiedly in favor of President Wilson's course in averting a nation-wide railroad strike. Referring to Candidate Hughes and his insistence that arbitration should have been employed, Mr. Minick's newspaper says in part: "But Mr. Hughes, like the Republican newspapers, failed to

CAPTURE TRENCHES AND PRISONERS FROM THE GERMANS

[BULLETIN] Paris, Sept. 21.—The French have made another gain in the Verdun sector where they captured two trenches and one hundred prisoners south of the Thiaumont work, according to an official statement issued by the war office. They also gained 100 yards east of Fort Vaux and in the Chapitre Wood. Bad weather still hampers operations on the Somme and the German attacks have not been renewed.

VOTE REVEALS STRIFE AMONG REPUBLICANS IN NEW YORK STATE

New York, Sept. 21.—The vote of the Republican primaries has revealed a condition of bitter factional strife in the ranks of the Republican party in New York state, which, it is predicted, will prove an embarrassing factor to Candidate Hughes upon his return here as any of the factional conflicts encountered by him upon his speech-making tour through the West. A striking feature was the decisive defeat of Robert Bacon, former member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and ex-ambassador to France, for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, backed by powerful financial interests and supported by Elihu Root, William Barnes, of Albany, and other leading members of the New York Old

MILLION RENDERED HOMELESS IN CHINA

Washington, Sept. 21.—American Red Cross officials today gave serious consideration to the state department dispatch stating that nearly a million Chinese are homeless and thousands destitute as a result of the flooding of seven thousand square miles by overflow of the Hwai river in Anhui province, China, two months ago. The American consul at Nanking reported that autumn crops were destroyed and calls for relief were pouring in from many districts. The Red Cross is said to be con-

RESENT ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT CHILD LABOR MEASURE

New York, N. Y., Sept. 21.—That the National Child Labor Committee warmly resents at this time the attempt to discredit the Federal Child Labor Act is the statement of Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the organization, in a letter to Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, which was made public today. Professor Thomas L. Parkinson, of the Legislative Drafting Bureau of the Columbia Law School, concurs in the view of Mr. Lovejoy. Chairman McCormick wrote to Mr. Lovejoy because of various attacks that have been made upon the child labor law, notably an attack by Wm. R. Wilcox, chairman of the

U. S. LEADS ALL NATIONS IN NUMBER OF MERCHANT SHIPS BEING BUILT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—The turning point in the fortunes of American shipping on the Pacific was marked by the recent purchase of three large ships by the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., "and there is no further danger of the American flag disappearing on the Pacific," a department of commerce report announced today. It also pointed out that the European war has cut down the total shipping of all nations engaged in trans-Pacific trade from 280,000 gross tons to 230,000.

The Pacific Mail Company's purchase, the report says, adds 17,000 gross tons to the five thousand tons that remained of American shipping on the Pacific. Prior to the war the total American tonnage engaged in this trade was eighty thousand gross tons, or 21 per cent of the total as against British shipping's 39 per cent and Japanese 33 per cent. Up to the present Pacific Mail purchases, American shipping had fallen off to two per cent, British to 30, while Japanese tonnage had jumped to 55 per cent of the total and Dutch shipping, formerly practically nothing, to 13 per cent. The report says that Japanese ship yards are taxed to their capacity and orders for Japanese ships have booked their yards for two years ahead, although one of their largest shipbuilders has had to buy all material from the United States. Incidentally the Chinese are busy at their Shanghai and Hong Kong yards. "The United States," the re-

GENERAL WALKOUT MAY BE CALLED TO BEGIN MONDAY

New York, Sept. 21.—Seventy-five business men organized as a committee tried to persuade labor leaders today to refrain from declaring a general strike in sympathy with the street railway employees, of whom it is asserted, there are 11,000 on strike. This is the last day of grace given by the labor unions to the mayor and volunteer mediators to settle the dispute with the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. and New York Railway Co. If today's conferences fail to find a plan of settlement the labor leaders threaten to issue a call tomorrow for a general sympathetic strike to begin on Monday. The citizens committee had little hope of success. It was reported today that some of the trade unions were opposed to a strike owing to the fact that they have contracts with their employers which would be violated by a strike.

HANGED BY MOB

[Bulletin] Olathe, Kas., Sept. 21.—Bert Dudley, charged with the murder of Henry Muller, an aged German and his wife, was taken from the Johnson county jail here today by a masked mob and hanged to a telephone pole. The mob came to Olathe in motor cars, supposedly from near Stilwell, where Muller had lived. Sheriff Len Carroll, refused to give up Dudley and the mob overpowered him. They then battered down three jail doors. Several shots were fired but none was injured.

ANOTHER TIMELY WARNING

A rather stubborn fire raged at and rubbed elbows with the business heart of the city, Tuesday evening. Fortunately there was complete calmness in the atmosphere and danger of the spread of the flames was reduced thereby to a minimum. But suppose there had been a stiff breeze, what then?

State fire marshals visit Portsmouth at frequent intervals, go away and leave orders for the tearing down of shacks that they condemn as menaces to the public health, but not a word as to the peril to lives, to say nothing of loss of millions in property, through the standing invitation to a general conflagration. There are numerous wooden buildings, of deficient arrangements, in the trade centers that would burn like shavings if they once caught fire and to prevent the spread of flames from them would demand the quickest and most efficient service. There are laws on the statute books of Ohio that forbid one property owner to peril the property of a neighbor by inadequate structures. It is high time, in fact it has been high time, through many coming and going administrations, that the practical enforcement of the laws should be looked after. Portsmouth has been growing, she is growing and is going to keep on growing indefinitely—let that fact sink into the official mind. There should be ordinance that will make the laws operative and there should be neither fear nor partiality in making them firmly and unwaveringly effective. A calamity, in the form of a fire, could altogether too easily wipe out much of the prosperity which the city has enjoyed of recent years.

HER STEADY ADVANCE

Coming right on top of the fact that a million dollar blast furnace is now under course of construction, the announcement that the Portsmouth Steel company will at once proceed to the erection of a two million dollar bi-product coke plant is even more than doubly welcome.

Years ago, when it was officially given out that the Norfolk & Western shops and terminals would be located here, President Johnson gave it as his opinion that at no distant day industrial plants would line the whole river front from the terminals east end to Sciotoville, saying he regarded that immediate section as the most promising of quick and tremendous development anywhere in the Ohio valley, from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati. His foresight is certainly being rapidly verified. The smoke from a number of big and busy plants are already going up from that particular section and they stretch from the terminals to Sciotoville. There are the Breece hub and spoke works, the Peckles, Carlyle and Star Yards paving brick plants, and monarch of them all the mammoth steel works, which in another year will have more employees on its payroll than any other enterprise in the county. It's pleasant to realize that contemporaneous with the rapid expansion of the steel works goes the accelerated prosperity of all the biggest industries of the locality. The terminals are constantly enlarging, the shoe factories continue steady growth and the brick plants are vigorously adding both to increase of fame and production.

While rejoicing at the evident purpose of the steel plant to take early position as Scioto's biggest industry, let us take occasion to inject right here that we have by no means lost faith in brick and apples. We still stand by our original prophecy of fifteen years ago that the greater gain and glory of Scioto county is to come from these two. With clay being dug from one side of every hill and apples ripening on the other, it can't be otherwise. Men of genius are making vast industries about here, mainly out of their ability and industry, but God put the riches for all in the hills and the people need only industry to dig and to plant to garner thereof.

Bluefield has got the idea in her head that she can't be a real city until she has a public library. That may be, but at the same time she may well be chary about mentioning the idea to one Carnegie.

Now they have discovered that Peary didn't discover the North Pole, neither did he discover any land thereabouts, because there is no land to discover. What a pity this was not postponed until a more opportune date, so that we might have something to talk about after the war and election are over.

Yes, it is going to help the gallantry of the game so much when women get into it. Republican national committee is officially and specifically making the statement Mrs. Antoinette jumped from Hughes to Wilson because headquarters gave that "other hateful thing" the job she was looking for at headquarters.

All the stamp taxes are to go with the end of the year. There will be no mourning. In the main they were pesky and produced no revenue commensurate with the irritation they provoked.

For the first time in its history The Times, in its Carnival edition, carried a big advertisement from a country general merchant. Incidentally we would say it was a mighty good advertisement at that.

A Democratic philosopher observes that a ten cent loaf isn't so exceedingly vital, seeing as most of us have the coin.

DAYS THAT STICK IN THE MEMORY

THE HAVOC INCREASES

Twenty-three persons were killed in automobile accidents, Sunday last. More than one-half of them met their death at railroad crossings, and a majority were inexperienced drivers. Nevertheless, the grade crossing plays no favorites and the train yields truck right of way to no intruder. The safest way in approaching a railroad crossing is to slow down and all do some intense listening and hearing. With laughter and chatter behind him, the driver is all too apt to be distracted from acts of prudence. Placing the foot on the brake, or vice versa, instead of on the accelerator is the cause of a good many accidents, that otherwise could be avoided by a narrow margin.

Huntington is one of a 120 cities seeking the location of the government armor plant. Portsmouth is the one city getting a million dollar blast furnace and a two million dollar bi-product coke plant, all inside of three months. On which is fortune smiling most genially?

The difference between ourselves and others is, that when they win they are lucky, while when we win it is because we earn and deserve.

The town has begun to primp and preen for Korn Carnival, which reminds us that, what else you may say about the Carnival, it is ever a great frolic for those who can steal away from work.

There is an item floating around that the Los Angeles police made one arrest, last year, for every 12 inhabitants. Evidently the job of policeman is no lazy man's job, out on the coast.

War news might keep up its interest, if what one side claims one day were not denied by the other the next.

United States Steel stock, common, is now hovering around 109. Can't somebody put on a stopper on this havoc Democratic free trade is creating with the industrial interests of the country? Under Republican protection this stock was known to bring as much as 9.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Sept. 21.—When I was "the" reporter on "the" newspaper in Gallipolis, O., and chased the elusive item from the saw-mill on the south of Main street to the depot on the north, my employer was W. G. Sibley, editor, author and lecturer. Naturally when I came to New York and became a resident in a large hotel, knew a few people on Broadway and could call George M. Cohan "George," it was my pet ambition to have Sibley come to New York so I could mix him with my smooth metropolitan airs.

Well the auspicious moment arrived the other day. Sibley galloped into New York in a private car with Charles G. Dawes, a Chicago millionaire, and the man who built the Dawes hotels in a modest little rose and old gold suite at the Waldorf and after bawling about the desk long enough for the house detectives to become restless I was told as firmly and as politely as it is possible for a hotel clerk to tell anyone, that Mr. Sibley could spare me twenty minutes the next day.

But the next day it seems that he and Mr. Dawes had a little engagement to dine with J. Pierpont Morgan in his Wall street offices, and through an oversight or something they neglected me. I waited the next day, but Mayor Mitchell had kept them longer than he expected, so they departed without me realizing

Nothing but death can separate some people from their fads. A man, something of a hermit, died at Pickersettown, this state, Tuesday, and in his room was found evidence that he was trying almost to his dying moment, to solve the problem of perpetual motion.

Now if these politicians will hold off the start of the campaign for about another three weeks we will unanimously vote them pretty clever fellows after all.

Do you happen to be related to Patrick O'Brien? If you are, consider yourself lucky, for the time being at least. Patrick died some time ago in Ireland and he left a fortune of between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, to be divided among his American kin.

Candidate Hughes has evidently heard the news and he is trying to put more ginger into his talks on his second swing around the circle. In other words to his petty, peevish and piffing plaints he is seeking to add pepper.

Hughes has found fault, in fact, continues to tirade against the child labor bill. Opposition to any and everything proposed and done by Wilson and his administration is down on the bill and Hughes proposes to go right through with it, apparently.

If the reports of what the Serbians are now doing to the Bulgars be reliable, we can well believe that every dog has his day.

Mother Beaver's Secret

I TELL YOU! It didn't take long for Mother Beaver to dive down, down, down into Crooked Creek when he felt the rush and whirr of Hoot, the Owl's wings over him! Indeed it didn't. Bushy didn't care if Little Brother did want a fish; he didn't care if he had promised to get him one; he didn't care anything except for his safety. He dived down to the bottom of the creek and then swam, silently and carefully, over toward the shore.

As he felt the weeds at the water's edge brush against his sides, he ventured to stick his nose over so little out of the water and see what was going on. Not a sound did he hear, not a sound. But Bushy was not to be fooled. He waited a good long time before he climbed out of the water and found Little Brother—he meant to take no chances this time. And wasn't Little Brother glad to see him? Just guess how glad! Gladder than he'd ever been in all his little life, for, you see, he had heard the rush of the owl's wings and he had seen Hoot fly up from the water with the fish in his mouth. No wonder he had been anxious about Bushy!

"But I got nothing for you to eat," complained Bushy, "and you are so hungry."

"Never mind about me," said Little Brother, "I'll eat bark any day rather than have you go out into that creek again. I wish Mother was here, she'd help us find something good. Where do you suppose she went, Bushy?"

Bushy was just about to say, "How should I know?" when there was a stir in the weeds beside them. Bushy and Little Brother crouched down low together and waited. They were so frightened they could hardly breathe! This Wigglewag country might be all very well, but it certainly was an exciting place to stay without one's father or mother! But this time, they needn't have worried for the stir in the weeds was caused by, who do you suppose?

There was a stir in the weeds beside them

them and told them not to worry, that everything was all right now; and then they began to feel better. "I tell you, Bushy, I'm proud of you," said Bushy, when they had told her about Bushy's narrow escape. "That was kind of you to want to get Little Brother something to eat when he was hungry. And you were smart and brave to dive into the creek so quickly that the old owl couldn't get you. I'm proud of you. I think I'll let you into my secret."

Bushy and Little Brother picked up their ears at that. I tell you! Secrets! What fun! "Listen now!" continued Mother Beaver, when all three heads were close together, "and don't tell a soul! I'm going to have a party."

K. C. Beaton, the columnist from the Pacific Coast, went down to Long Beach the other day to take a plunge in the surf. He was holding to a rope and there was a man right next to him when a big wave hit them both.

Beaton floundered and kicked him in the stomach and in sort of choked and apologized and they started talking again; but another wave pushed them under and after awhile they became good friends.

Finally the stranger said he would have to go and Beaton had enough, and so on the way to the dressing room he said to the stranger: "Wait for me after you are dressed and we will go upstairs and have a little something."

When Beaton came out he found his friend was a minister in clerical garb and they went up stairs and ate toast and drank tea. They had a good time, but it is Beaton's opinion that all ministers should be tattooed when they are in the water. He is not exactly clear on just exactly what he said when those waves hit him.

Daly's Theatre is a sad spot for New Yorkers who knew it in its glory. Today it is the home of cheap melodrama and blood-curdling moving pictures. Those who pass it cannot help but wonder what Augustin Daly would say. There is a plan now afoot to buy the building and have it torn down and erect a skyscraper to be known as the Daly Building.

The street car strike did one thing at least. It made a lot of New Yorkers walk who rarely get any exercise.

"What do you think of the strike?" asked a friend of Remond Wolf. "Great!" was the reply. "It keeps one out in the open air."

Buffalo Bill And Famous Wild West Show Visit City Today

Mammoth Tents Pitched At Sixteenth And Findlay; Fine Street Parade Given

There is plenty to stir the imagination of both young and old America in the parade of the Buffalo Bill-Miller Bronners' Wild West Show today. The big show arrived here early today from Jackson and pitched its tents at Sixteenth and Findlay streets.

The children, and there were thousands of them at the curb, might have told you that their chief interest centered in the gaucho painted Indians, while their elders would not deny that Buffalo Bill himself was the chief attraction. The veteran scout of American frontiers, the crack shot with pistol and rifle, who has figured in so many daring exploits, rode at the head of his interesting exhibition, driving two valuable horses raised on the plains. Though more than seventy years old he betrayed none of the feebleness of advanced years. Applause greeted him everywhere and he was kept busy swinging his sombrero.

There are three bands in the show, more than four hundred horses and as many employees. Closely following Colonel Cody there were four squaws in single file, painted and decked with feathers, as most of the children had never seen them before. Feathers in their headpieces were not sufficient, so each one carried a five-foot sheaf of feathers of all colors. Following a band drawn by eight horses, one saw a steer that looked as if he enjoyed the rough handling of the cow boys twice a day in the exhibitions much better than gazing into the faces of the populace.

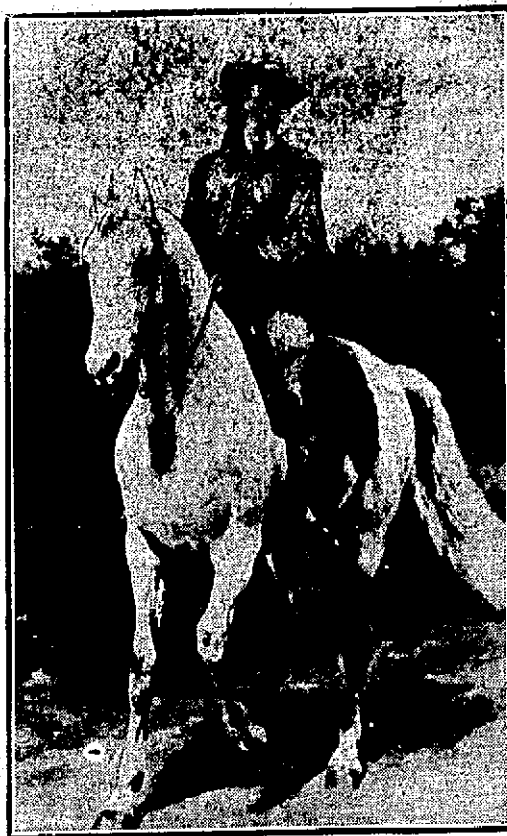

Indians again! This time they were displayed in their natural habitats. A six-horse team drew a heavy wagon, on which were two tepees, arranged just as they are to be seen, even today, on the Western reservations and on the show grounds.

The Indians, however, must have betrayed their grief over the death of the Chief Iron Tail, for years ruler of the Indians with this show, who has just died yesterday, the braves chose Chief Flying Hawk as Iron Tail's successor. He fought in the Custer massacre, and is about the same age as his predecessor. He rode at the head of the Indians today.

Mexicans, Arabs, Cossacks and Japanese, cowboys and cow girls rode their little ponies with the abandon that one would expect of daring riders, who thrill large audiences twice a day at the exhibitions. And the same can be said of the United States army men, who are on furlough, that they may take part in a military pageant, entitled "Preparedness".

There were two of the regular army field pieces in the parade, loaned by the government, for the mimic battles which includes cavalry charges and artillery duels. A battle with the Indians is one of the incidental features. One also saw in the parade a fine specimen of the American bison, with which the name of the Buffalo Bill has been so intimately associated. No men or groups of men ever killed so many of these great animals of the west as the veteran crack shot of the show.

Lastly, the calliope. What child, looking upon it for the first time as it thundered out its tones, did not regard it as the invention of another world!

The Movies

William S. Hart in "The Captive God" Columbia Today.
William S. Hart will be seen at the Columbia theatre today in the long-awaited Triangle "Aztec story," "The Captive God." This play is from the pen of Monte M. Katterjohn and offers Hart in a role that is totally unlike anything he ever has attempted since his desertion of the footlights for the film studio. The part is that of a stalwart Spaniard, who, shipwrecked in the early part of the sixteenth century, is adopted by the people of Tehuan, in ancient Mexico, and made their leader because of his superior wisdom.

Never since he first entered the motion picture fold has Thomas H. Ince bent his efforts toward the production of a drama like "The Captive God." He has preferred to let pass untouched that period of the world's history which contains some of the most interesting and unusual romances ever written. But when Katterjohn wrote "The Captive God," Ince saw in it the possibilities of a remarkable motion picture play.

With his customary care, Ince has incorporated a great amount of detail into this subject, and the result is a magnificent spectacle-romance.

Romance of a Railway.
The Uganda railway possesses a history unrivaled for romance. Not only does it run through wild jungle, traverse lofty mountains, cross deep gorges and climb mountain passes to a height of 8,000 feet, but in its early days it received far too many narrow-gauge attentions from the natives. It was found that coils of telegraph wire became quite the rage in feminine fashions, while in the hands of sturdy warriors bolts and nuts became formidable weapons. Amid Roar Of Kannon, Kohorts Whooped Up Things In Chilly

Local Delegation Visits Farmers' Fall Festival; Now For Big Show Here

A squad of Kora Karnival Kohorts and their artillery, accompanied a delegation of local business men to the Chillicothe Farmers' Fall Festival Wednesday afternoon, where the Kannon heralded the many advantages of attending the Greater 1916 Kora Karnival, which will open formally Wednesday noon, September 27. On returning the Portsmouth delegation reported that the Chillicothe festival was a splendid affair and that the booths were very fine.

Just a few days remain now until the Karnival spirit will be prevailing the inmost recesses of the community. Already all engagements for the coming week are being cancelled where possible, so that the Karnival might be enjoyed.

Each day will be distinctly different from the preceding one, and each one will be crammed full of amusement and pleasing sights.

There will be the opening event, the Kora Karnival Community Kamp dinner, which will be held at Tracy park, Ninth and Chillicothe streets, Wednesday noon. In the evening the gigantic Industrial-Business parade will wind its way through the principal streets.

To see the diversified industrial interests located in Portsmouth alone will be worth considerable.

On the second day there will be a Farmers' parade, which will be just one long moving line of handsome, sleek farm animals, products of the fields and blooded stock. This will move at 10 o'clock. Then in the afternoon a Quartette Contest and an enko walk contest are to be staged on the Galla street esplanade. During the evening the lodge men of the city will march in the Fraternal parade. This year the Fraternal parade promises to be the largest and best ever held.

Friday is a day that will interest everyone, just the same as the preceding days. In the afternoon, at two o'clock, the school children will march down through the principal streets. In the evening there will be an automobile parade. Most every machine in the county will pass in review. Some will be gaily decorated. Others will be grotesque. Don't miss it.

The closing day will be superb. A Fielders' Contest and a Back and Wing dance will start things in the afternoon, and in the evening the whole city will be given over to a masquerade parade. If you are interested in a large variety of costumes, visit Portsmouth Saturday, sure.

Besides the main events, there will be hundreds of handsomely decorated booths, free attractions and exhibitions to inspect.

The Kora Karnival this year is just what everyone desires to visit. There will be special trains. There are good roads leading to and from the city and there is an ever waiting hand of fellowship and warm hospitality ready in Portsmouth.

Order Steam Shovel Of "Caterpillar Type"

Since the famous charge of a fleet of armored automobiles across the shell torn trenches and dug-outs of the Germany army, somewhere in France, considerable interest has been evinced in the United States over the design of these quaint monsters of warfare. Recent press dispatches, in speaking of the success of these automobiles, or "tanks" as they have been nicknamed by Tommy Atkins, have stated that they have been discovered that most of them bear the "Made in America" mark.

Just recently the Micklethwait Improvement Company, this city, placed an order for a huge Caterpillar steam shovel, which will be used in grading the new Micklethwait addition, Boulevard. Before they purchased this piece of machinery, a contract was signed in which the new owners agreed that they would not dispose of it to any enemies of Great Britain. This same concern, it is understood, are supplying the Caterpillar armored Leviathans of the battlefield to England.

The new steam shovel, which is built on a carriage similar to the one used by the armored automobiles, will arrive in the city next March and will be placed in operation at once.

TURNER BOUND OVER

Jim Turner, the colored chauffeur, who drove the Overland touring car which was wrecked near Rosemount Road Saturday night, was bound over to the grand jury by Mayor H. H. Kaps Wednesday evening in the sum of $300.

Turner pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving a car without the owner's consent. The penalty for this offense is a penitentiary sentence of from one to three years.

Turner was defended by Attorney Theo. K. Funk who waived the examination of his own witnesses. F. E. Bower who had the car in storage testified to the taking of the car from his Second street building without his knowledge and how it had been badly damaged.

Officers Flowers and Albrecht testified to their arrest of Turner. Marion White, the other colored man in the "joy-riding" party, is still at large and Chief Henry Clark has not yet fully established the identity of the two white girls supposed to have been in the automobile. Turner's mother furnished bond for him Thursday morning and he was released from custody.
